The Welcarthur Democrat.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY E. A. & W. E. BRATTON

Office in Bratton's Buildings, East of Court House, Up Stairs.

TERMS OF PUBLICATION. One Copy one year, in advance, If not puld after six months,

If not paid within the year, continued at the end of the year, it will be con-TERMS OF ADVERTISING. One Squate three insertions, Each additional insertion, Cards one year, advertisers. All miver is ments populie in advance or on demand. The above terms must be strictly complied anything. 12 Special Notices, per line, frecents.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY OF VINTON COUNTY, OHIO.

J. P. PLYLEY, Judge of District and Common TERMS OF DISTRICT (OURT-Sept. 16, 1861. September 23, 18+1.

County Officers. B. P. HEWITT, Probate Judge. GEORGE LANTZ, Clerk Court of Com. Pleas. H. B. LACEY, Prosecuting Attorney. SHADES, Speriff. NELSON RICHMOND, Auditor.

HENRY PAYNE Treasurer. JUNATHAN BRINE, Recorder. S. C. Cash, Cor Ber. BUREL OUNDS POLICION

Chamberton no Jone other Marcus Walk-SCHOOL MA., MATER -Jun, T. Mackey, G. The Source of the second second

AT - D. E SPERKER. VINTON FURNAUL Means Chark & Ch.

Vanton baseron F. M., Vinten Co. M.

YAPLE & MACKEY,

ATTYS & COUNSELLCRS AT LAW MCARCELLE, OHIO. OFFICE IN THE COURT HOUSE.

Will practice as Partners in Vinton County Common Pieas and all Courts above. Partientar attention paid to collections, and partition of real estate, de.

REFERENCES, Mesars. Follett, Foster & Co., Columbus, O.,

"Hoffneiner Brathers Cincinnati O.,

Builett & Fairthorne, Phila., Pa.,

Gibns, Watson & Gibbs, N. Y. City,

James P. Panner, Esq., Pittsbur, Pa.,

Wm. B. Pierde, Guelunati, O.

JOHN T. MACKET LABELLOFIZED, BS Public, to take and certify depositions, take ac-knowledgments of deels and other instruments, Me Arthur. Jan. 3, 1841 .-- 1y.

BINGHAM & HAMILTON, ATTORNEYS AT LAW

McArthur, Vinton Co., O., I.L practice in Vintenand adjoining Coun-W ties. Prompt stention will be given to all thing else, child, said Mr. Martin. business entrusted to their care. Office in And so would I clear? Trues, bine Brutton's Building up stairs.

GUTHRIE & LACEY ATTORNEYS AT LAW

M'ARTHER, VIATEN LUINTY, ULIO, Will Practice in the Several Courts of

O. T. GUNNING, TTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW A MeArthur, Vinton Cenity, Ohio, will

practice in the Courts of Vinton and adjoining counties .- Jan. 5, 1861.- 19. EDWARD HOLLAND,

BOOT AND SHOE MAKER Main Street, McArthur, Ohio, HAVING returned to this place and opened a shop at the above named place, he would respectfully announce that he is prepared to furnish enstomers with anything in his line at the most reasonable rates, and hopes to merit and re-ceive the patronage of his old customers and many new ones for all which he will be daily On Hand and for Sale

A large assortment of Boots and Shoes, made up especially for this market by myself, and war ranted to be good and substantial. August 16, 1860-tfo.

BI. C. MEORE, M. D. Physician and Surgeon,

ALLENSVILLE, OHIO.

Offers his professional survices to the citizens of Adense his professional strings. Jammary J -lyr.

J. SHRECKENGAUST, DEALER IN

WATCHES, CLOURS & JEWELRY Repairing Done and Warranted. OPPOSITE PAYNE AND HAWK'S McARIHUR, UHIO.

January 3, 1861, -1y.

E. A. BRATTON. ATTORNEY AT LAW

Mearfiur o., Will Practice in Vinton and Adjoining

"tijah Brown's Estate,

Miscellancons.

LILLY MARTIN'S

EY ANNA GREENWOOD.

No paper will be discentinued until all to make her a present of something, Ludy's Book, A liberal deduction will be made to yearly of indecision, that he gave up in de- dropped the letter in herself.

go and suit berself." he said, with a ring, on her return home, feeling of relief; 'for I don't know what to get.'

brance.

On that evening, when the family silly girls to read,' was assembled in the little sittingroom-all but Uncle John, who was uncle,' retorted Lilly, smiling. in his own chamber, where he always about her three dollar bill.

'What are you going to buy?' asked twenty, who had just come home was bold assertion, and she had no saidplace a year.

his head contemptuously. into the fire, said April Eath.

disapproduction in his voice.

'lt's full of beautiful stories,' re-Glenn's.

indeed, to want plates of fashion.'

'A mere Milliner's Magazine!' fell speeringly from the lips of William. 'I wouldn't let it come into my

'I would spend my money for some 'And so would I, dear,' more kindly spoke her mother. But Uncle John gave me the moncy to spend for just what I wanted," persisted Lilly; 'I don't care for any thing in the world but the Lady's displayed.

But, Lilly,' said William, gravely, it's the merest whip syllabub affair in liam. CAREFUL ATTENTION GIVEN TO CONVEYANCING the world. Nothing in it but silly love-stories and wishy-washy poetry. Better go and bny some good book it you want anything to read.' 'How do you know there is nothing in it but love stories and wishywashy poetry?' inquired Lilly with unable to repress her admiration. 'Because I do,' said William.

But how do you know? Have von ever read the magazine?' 'Me? No, indeed!' And William gave his head a contemptuous toss

Do you think I'd waste my time over your Lady's Books?

what is in it?

put her down by a mere say so.

stand.2

'If I were your tather,' said Aunt that he had listeners. Edith, 'I would forbid any such dis- 'What is first rate, William?' asked position of your money. I wouldn't Aunt Edith, on one of these occasions, house. In a little while we'll have a fidgety desire to get hold of the atyour head filled with love and non- tractive looking magazine; and with this?" sense, fashion and foolery.'

Mr. Martin did not respond to liam to read aloud. this. As long as Uncle John had 'Why, 'Parson Scrantum's Donaspend as she pleased, he did not just laughing aloud. against the "Book" were not made her tace.

on the ground of its morality. yere a handling, even from the Scrantom's Dongtion Party." Not contain the second and the second and the second and second an demned and ridiculed the Book, the the "Book." . THREE DOLLAR BILL, the very next day she went over to ing to do people good, objected Aunt another page of the "Book"-"Mrs. see Susan Glenn, and tall to her Edith.

ly mind was thrown into such a state took the post-office in her way, and some choice old things. And here Lingle John read the interesting ability, if I send to Paris for lam;

T've subscribed for the Lady's peet to find such a paper here.' Book,' replied Lilly.

'lt'll just suit me, then, you know, Mrs. Hale.

ral sensible, and healthy.'

I'm going to take the Lady's the publisher, who promptly dispatch. The Old English Essayists' is capi. interesting enough, though it doesn't which is exhibited in the excention of Book, replied Lilly; 'it's just three ed the magazine. On its arrival, tal; and 'Ideas Picked up on the Sea seem to contain anything very solid it. In fact, it is to design and skills Norsensel' said William, tossing contempt or disapproval; but, strange to say, notwithstanding Lilly's three dollar bill had procured the "Book," read to say, notwithstanding Lilly's three dollar bill had procured the "Book," read to say, notwithstanding Lilly's three dollar bill had procured the "Book," read to be a really excellent uncer at importance; and, in products and their roll.

It's only a Lady's Magazine, you once oursed in the normal to say, notwithstanding Lilly's three dollar bill had procured the "Book," read to be a really excellent uncer at importance; and, in products and their rolls. What do you want with the Lady's then by the other so entirely that the of man can gaze, or on which his think it is very decidedly so, from linen, by far the greatest value is Book, 1 royf inquired Mr. Martin, day passed before she could have it memory can dwell, none are more what little I have seen of it; and it given to these substances by the inall to herself.

plied Lilly; 'I've seen it at Susan William, taking almost by force, the the deep furrows which time ploughs danger of their getting a great deal of forms and conditions. Lovesick nonsense!' ejaculated had torn off the envelope. 'Let me ness with which years cover the head Mrs. Hale, the editress, who is well magazine, saying -'And oh! such sweet pictures!' said I amph! Two goese swimming in a the face to the carth, as if looking for crimination, good sense, and good is admirably suggestive. I doubt very Lilly. Every month there are one or mill pond. Capital design! Or, a a grave to rest in; for the wrinkled principles, produces a work, I am much if any p risdical in the country, two fine engravings, and plates of pair of billing and cooing doves cheek, and the blanched head, and really glad to find of a high order no matter what its pretensions, can don't have and music, and I would have none as well. Plates! the stooping frame, and the appro-'Plates of fashion!' broke in Aunt ster sauce! Hal ha! he! That is as beautiful in the system of hie, as ful, for I am an old bacheler; but, as of style.' Edith. 'A nice little girl you are, good! Iia! ha! First rate! Just winter with its leafless trees and fro the work is more particularly design 'I must agree with you there,' re-fish from the larder.

were examined,

Beautiful! said Mr. Martin, as "Wandering Life in the East" was Beantitul !' said Aunt Edith. 'A very pretty picture,' said Wil

'Two pages of music,' remarked the brother, as he turned a leaf .-

Aunt Edith shook her head graye

Church of the Advent in Phila-

really an embellishment."

Then how do you know so well desire to look a little deeper into the which are revealed to us by aid of the lay in his neighbor's superior taste in soon buried in the number. Some forms of existence." 'Know?' replied William. 'Don't times he would laugh out involuntaeverybody know all about your Mil- rily, sometimes pause and lift his Mr. Martin. 'Why, is that in the liner's Magazine? How anybody can eyes thoughtfully from the page, and Lady's Book? bear to read the stupid nonsense it sit in a musing attitude for some mocontains, is more than I can under-ments, and sometimes ejaculate-First rate!' without being conscious ict the miserable thing come into the who, strangely enough, experienced difficulty refrained from asking Wil-feel authorized to take Aunt Elith's . Whatf asked Aunt Elith, with us, until the denouement came, and ! Well! he at length said, pausing, advice, seeing that the objections an irrepressible smile breaking over there there was as free a gust of mer- and speaking with the tone of a man

'Let me read it for the benefit of A great deal more than is here all, Oh! it is too good!' And Wildoubtful it the "Book" ever got so se "Annt Magwire's Account of Parson brandy.

Lilly Martin, however, had a will recent contempt of the wisny-washy ly approved, than at the humorous fluence on the Mechanic Arts of this of her own. The more they con- and lovesick nonsense contained in incident just read.

more bent was she on having it. On But it ien't the right kind of read tiop," said Uncle John, reading from plied Uncle John.

write a letter to Mr. L. A Godey, in wrongs, and resolve to do better in Martin and Aunt E-lith. On Lilly Martin's birth-day-Lilly Philadelphia, inclose her three dollar future, it does good,' said William. was just fifteen- Uncle John wished bill in it, and ask him to send the But I find a great deal here that I Uncle John. had not expected to find. So far, 'Indeed! You know how often ment, too little regard for faste in arrearages are paid unless at the option of its and went down into the village to see 'I'll do it,' said Lilly Martin. And there are no lovesick stories, and a our mother used to speak of her,' when the paper is not ordered disif he could find enything to suit his she asked Susan to let her have a great deal of solid, thoughtful, in remarked Mrs. Martin, fancy. After looking at head bags, sheet of paper and a pen. The let-structive reading. There is a part 'What about her? Read it, broth- bave been sold over my head again gold pencils, books, and all sorts of ter was soon written and the money here that the editress, Mrs. Hale, er, said Annt Edith, manifesting a and again. No matter at what exbijouterie, the old gentleman's order- inclosed. As Lilly went home she galls 'The Treasury,' In which are good deal of interest.

> is an admirable article on the Arts parrative, to which all listened with and he shall be a permanent fixlure spair, and went home without buying 'What have you bought, Lilly?' of Design, and their Inflaence on the the liveliest interest asked Uncle John, as his nace came Mechanic Arts of this Country, It's just as mother used to relate, cossay as an engineer or a com-"I'll give her the money and let her into the parlor where he was sit- which father will read with interest almost word for word," sand Mrs. | ounder of colors. There shall be and profit. I am sure I didn't ex. Martin,

> And Uncle John, acting according 'Why, Lilly!' said Uncle John, in his opinion given in advance, and Aunt Edith. to this decision, slipped a three dollar a tone of surprise, the thing is not founded upon a mere prejudice, for 'Why not in the Lady's Book!' ask- ciples of taste, and able to keep up bill into the hand of Lilly, and told worth having. I read in a paper about an hour. During the after ed Lilly.
> her to spend it for a birth day remem- the other day that it was a mere noon Lilly had an opportunity to 'Oh, because-because-' trifling, mawkish affair, fit only for read the "Book," when she paid her Because you didn't know anything

> 'No, but, dear, even a young girl after tea, she found Uncle John, close three dollar bill has not been thrown arts, how important it is to introduce had a fire in cold weather- Lilly told like you ought to read what is natu- to the light, bending over the Lady's away." Book. For an hour he continued Uncle John smiled at Lilly's home- good taste and a knowledge of the little and a knowledge of Lilly argued her point, but the reading, and then taking off his spec thrusting remark; but no one else tical effect, as it is, evaluated as her brother William, a young man of odds were against her, for everything tacles, and leaning back in his chair, gave any evidence of having heard much the material which gives said a > from college, full of the dignity of proofs at hand to set off against them. | Well! There really are some ex In due time Lilly's letter reached cellent things here. This paper on zine. It appears to be amusing and design, and the mechanical simple there was a general expression of Shore' are full of thought. Just lis- and instructive.'

it was monopolized first by one and _Of all the ruins on which the eye work. As to being instructive, I of cotton, wood, iron, wood, silk or painfully sublime than the ruins of ladies acquire a taste for the kind of genuity and industry which are ap-This is the precious affair,' said humanity. And what are they? Not reading it centains, there isn't much plied to their development into new number out of Lilly's hand after she on the cheeks, nor the silvery write lovestek nonsense in their heads.-Let us see what they are like. Lob- priate accompaniments of old age, are taste; though this is nothing wonder bines int r s , instruction, and beaut which put them in a better humor, beauty of youth is gone, and the any one?

the harvest."

Aunt Ed th. new world of being, and bringing us poring over the "Book," up Lilly, turning an arch look upon her brother William. Uncle John, after reading the little extracts just quoted, opened the

with a smile-

given the three dollar bill to Lilly to tion Party," replied the young man, as the assembly of deacons that sat structed mind for a quarter of an on the case of the Rev. Mr. Manii. hour at least. given was said on all sides; and it is liam read as gravely as he could, be only a sponge cake soaked in years ago, would have put, by this

'Capital !' said Mr. Martin.

"Heroic Women of the Revolu-Hannah Erwin Israel."

And so William went on reversing that in the Lady's Book! remarked have been lew, but by a well-educacompliments to Mrs. Neal and to abort how interesting a magazine it azine and readwas,' said Lilly, with an air of tri When Lilly came into the parlor umph. 'It seems, after all, that my all who are engaged in the mechanic it, except her father, who said-means of which we may look more the colors frilliant and well set. - Lly's three dollar bill has certainly 'Isn't that sweet?' broke forth Lilly, deeply into the human heart, and see And there was an establishment a been well spent." more closely the current of human lew miles off, with a r putation the thoughts, and the workings of his reverse of this, the goods from which delphin, raid William, reading the man technol Yer, sympathy-by always went off more freely than Mr. comes, I hope to be so much be ter off title of the next picture. A fine means of which humanity is opened Martin's. The cause remained a than I am now, in consequence of her old Gothic structure,' he added, 'and to us, and we are brought to the invistery to the father of Lilly, altho invistment, as to be able to build her knowledge of mental emotions and he had often reflected the reon. It s a bandsome cottage after one of Mr. After the plates, model cottages, characteristics quite as interesting, plain, straightforward, naimaginative, Godes's models, which are regularly and other embellishments were ex- and as much, generally, overlooked, unsuggestive mind, had not been able farnished, I see, in his Book, amined, William telt a very natural as those forms of physical existence of itself to see that the whole secret Lilly blushed and look happy.

> been far in advance. One evening, several days after cured in this country. 'That's lovesick nonsense!' spoke arrested by an article of graver im- be done. "A Tipsy Parson!" Why, what's port than he had expected to find. After reading it very carefully, he sat bedy when the "tipsy parson" at in his mind, I've learned something severely heaten. Mre Reeside's party turned out to to night that, if I had learned ten in my pocket.'

'Indeed!' remarked Uncle John, coops and all such kind of pintder.

Country!

'I glaneed over it huggiedly,' re-

Then do you read it attentively, It is admirable, and contains just the about the matter. Susan told her to If it makes them repent of past Why! quickly asked both Mrs suggestions that I have air along needed, and which I have wonder, Why Hannah Erwin Israel, said hever came of themselves into my mind. I have had, in my establish designs, and that is why goods, in every way interior to those I turn out, perce, I will have an artist of the first in my works, and cors d red as neto more getting up of patterns by a .Who would have thought to find more mechanic, whose opportunities ted artist, fully imbued with the prinwith the improvements of the day;

Listen to this And Mr. Martin took up the mage

'We would strongly impress upon into their articles the principles of to the product, as it is the focus the 'I don't see any harm in the maga- intellect which are a parent in Hiller that the richest gems which were

Mr. Martin then laid down the see what it looks like. Lady's Book! -nor the curved spine, which nows known to be a woman of taste, dis And throughout, the whole article gen streams in the system of the sea. ed for ladies-and they may not only marked William. "I read most of And William held up the graphic, sons; but the ruins of humanity are be excused, but commended for pay- the higher order of magazines, as they but laughable plate of a cat caught seen in wrinkles which time has not ing a proper regard to the fishions - assumed to be, while at college, and I by a lobster in attempting to steal a made, in a frame trembling with anx. these illustrations of the prevailing must own, that an article combining iety, shaken by sorrow, humbled by modes are well enough, and don't hurt all the pre-r qu sites of excellence so All laughed heartily at the plate, sin, withered by despair-where the the good reading in the Book' for fully as this one, I rarely met. And I will also say, that this the first num: and their heads formed a knot, as the beauty of age has not supplied its And thus this single number of the ber of the Lelv's Book which I have further embellishments of the number place; 'tis as melancholy as snow in magizine worked its way, by the ever read, will suffer in com, arison force of its own intrinsic ment, into with any magazine published in the 'How true! how elequent!' said the good opinion of a family, every country, I don't care what may be its member of which, but one, had pre- protonsions. Good taste is seen on 'And again,' resumed Uncle John. judged and condemned it. For a almost every page; and amusement Wonderful are the powers of the whole week there was scarcely an and instruction are so happily blendmicroscope, opening to our eyes a hour in the day that somebody wasn't ed, that your fancy is ever kept in lively play, while your judgment is acquainted with forms and modes of Mr. Martin was the owner of ex- strgugthened, your false views correctexistence of which, heretofore, we had tensive print works in the neighbor ed, and your errors made apparent no conception or apprehension. But, hood; and his goods were known in without wounding your self-love, and is there no moral microscope, by market as excellent in quality, and thus binding your moral perceptions,

'In level it has,' said the father. · Hy the time Lily's wedding day

On the next day, Mr. Martin wrote gingerbread" affair, as he had called microscope; and thus we learn, that selecting and getting up his patterns. to a correspondent in New York, to Lilly was no fool, if she was but it, and without so much as saying to the moral world is as full of active He looked, mainly, to the quality of procure him an examental agricult of fifteen, and she had no idea of letting Lilly 'By your leave, sister,' sat thought and feeling as the material his work; his neighbor to its appear the highest ability, if one was to be William have it all his own way, and down in a corner of the sofa and was world is of curious and beautiful ance. If Mr. Martin had possessed had in the city. Whether he has obequal taste, or had employed a de tained or not, I have not learned. But 'Excellentl' fell from the lips of signer of the highest abilities, his he is in earnest about it; and fully regoods would in a little while have solved to send to London or t'an is it and one of the right stamp cannot be proving > Lilly's magazine came into the house, The next number of the Booker in Mr. Martin took up the number looked for with interest by the control of the state of the which, by this time, had been pretty member of the family, and there have thoroughly read by all, and turning some talk of sending for the back than, magazine in another part, and said over its pages, soon had his attention hers for a year. This and probability of T"A great lie," says the roet All became silent with interest, and thought for sometime. Then he Crabbe, "is like a great fish on dry and Uncle John read the story got up, and putting his hands behind land it may fret and fling, and make a aloud. The listeners were as grave him, waiked the floor with an ab- trigitful bother, but it cann thart you. You have only to keep still and it will die off itself?

The man who challenged comrariment as distinguished that grave who had fully settled some question diction got into an awful fight and was

> Pone-The wind it blew, the snow time, ten or twenty thousand dollars it flew, and raised particular that d' rewith skir's and hoops, and cheken

Or 'devil' thinks that the 'Yes, and there is no mistake at all Governor of Virginia acted Wise